Maturity profile

How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. One way to estimate risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

Usually, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They normally have a greater chance of losing money and also have a greater chance of higher returns.

Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They usually have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund is not guaranteed or insured. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

Risk rating

Treasury funds are generally expected to be a low risk investment category when compared to both equity and money market funds. This is due to the high credit worthiness of the Government of Sri Lanka, liquidity and depth of the treasury market and shorter maturities of the investments. However, any dividend paid, or interest accruing will change in line with changes in current interest rates due to the short-term and liquid nature of the fund.

For more information about the specific risks that can affect the fund’s returns, see the sections entitled “What are the risks of investing in the fund?” and “Who should invest in the fund?” in the fund’s Key Investor Information Document.
